

U-PGx summer school for medical doctors, hospital pharmacists and students:

Towards Pharmacogenomics In Clinic

Hands-on tutorials:

- Whom to genotype
- How to access a phenotype
- How to inform patients on genotyping
- What to do with test results

Topics:

- Important structures of drug action
- Basic concepts of pharmacogenetic guided therapy
- From pharmacogenetics to pharmacogenomics
- Introduction on available databases for clinical information on pharmacogenetics
- Ethical and legal aspects of pharmacogenetics
- Clinical use of PGx guided therapy

Speakers (amongst others):

- Jesse J Swen, Leiden University Medical Centre (NL)
- Julia Stingl, Federal Institute for Drugs and Medical Devices, (DE)
- Vita Dolžan, University of Ljubljana (SI)
- Richard Turner, University of Liverpool (UK)
- David Gurwitz, Tel Aviv University (ISR)

Venue: Federal Institute for Drugs and Medical Devices, Bonn (Germany)

20 – 23 August 2018

Open to all interested students of life sciences, medical doctors and hospital pharmacists.
The official language of the Summer School is English.

CME points are requested at the chamber of physicians Nordrhein.

Credit points are requested at the Graduate School for Clinical and Population Science, University Bonn.

Participation fee (incl. coffee breaks gala-dinner)
70 € for students
120 € for non-students

Please send your application (name, institution, student/ working background with certificate) before 1st July 2018 to: [katja.just\[at\]bfarm.de](mailto:katja.just@bfarm.de)